 - Use Appropriate Language & Style
- PUBLICATION ETHICS
 - Avoid Plagiarism
 - Declare Conflicts of Interest
 - Respond to Reviewers Professionally

A guest lecture on “Publishing in High Impact Journals” was organized for the faculty members of the Mechanical Engineering Department at the CAD/CAM Laboratory, Lakireddy Bali Reddy College of Engineering, Mylavaram, on 23rd March 2026.

The session was delivered by Dr. Harish Venu, who provided valuable insights into strategies and best practices for publishing research articles in high-impact journals. The lecture focused on understanding the characteristics of high-impact journals, including indexing in reputed databases such as Scopus and Web of Science, along with key metrics like Impact Factor and CiteScore. During the session, the resource person emphasized the importance of novelty, methodological rigor, and strong research contribution. He guided participants on selecting appropriate journals, structuring high-quality manuscripts, and preparing effective sections such as title, abstract, introduction, methodology, results, and discussion. He also highlighted the importance of identifying research gaps and presenting results clearly using figures and tables.

The lecture further covered peer review processes, common reasons for manuscript rejection, and strategies to improve acceptance rates. Participants were educated on avoiding predatory journals and adhering to publication ethics, including plagiarism-free work, proper authorship, and ethical approvals. Dr. Harish Venu also introduced useful tools such as Mendeley, Grammarly, and ChatGPT to enhance manuscript quality and streamline the publication process.

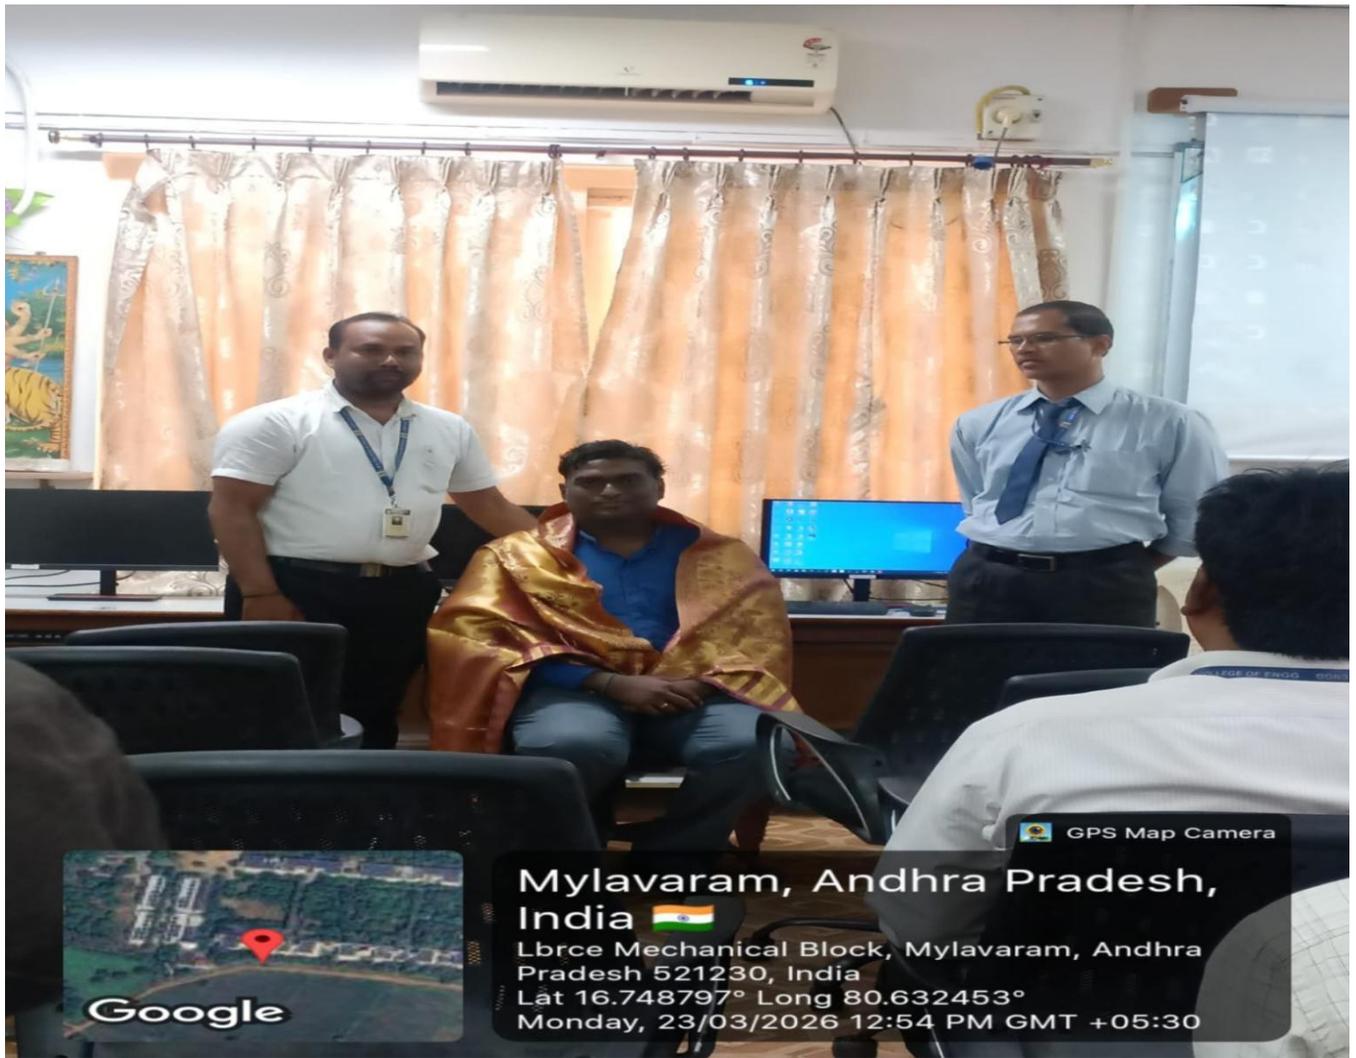

The session was highly interactive and beneficial, enabling faculty members to gain clarity on writing and publishing impactful research papers. The lecture concluded with a motivational note emphasizing that quality research and persistence are key to successful publication.

At the end of the session, Dr. M.B.S. Sreekara Reddy, Head of the Mechanical Engineering Department, expressed his sincere appreciation to the resource person for delivering an insightful and informative lecture on publishing high-quality journals. He also thanked all the participants for their active involvement.

The resource person, Dr. Harish Venu, was felicited by Dr. P. Ravindra Kumar and Dr. V. Dhana Raju as a token of gratitude for his valuable contribution.

Overall, the guest lecture was highly informative and provided practical guidance to faculty members for enhancing their research publication skills.
